INAUGURAL ADDRESS

by Mayor C. Wesley Lyons

Gentlemen of the Council:

We stand at the threshold of a new year.

The inauguration of a new City Government marks an important event in the life of a municipality, even in normal times. In times like the present, when momentous issues are at stake, and our nation is fighting for its very life, and for the preservation of those principles on which it was founded, and the adherence to which has caused it to grow to its present preeminent position of leadership among the nations of the world, the inauguration of a new City Government is of much more than ordinary significance.

We look with pride to the accomplishments of the past. Rochester is in an enviable position as regards its financial standing.

This is due to the careful administration of its affairs by past Mayors and City Councils; and to the sound policy, adhered to in the immediate past, of conserving its assets to prepare for the inevitable expense of readjustments, which must follow the successful termination of the present terrible conflicts, and in which expense Rochester must be prepared to do its share to the utmost.

With no City Net Indebtedness, aside from its Water Construction Notes, which are paid from revenues of the Water Department and have no bearing on the tax rate, I am sure Rochester will be in a position to fulfill its obligation in this respect.

We, as a City, and particularly as a Council elected to manage the City affairs for the next twelve months, have many duties and responsibilities, such as those relating to good roads and highways; providing every educational opportunity for the boys and girls of the community which the City can reasonably afford; protecting the life and property of its citizens; and caring for the needy and aged among us who need our help. Added to these ordinary and necessary activities there will be the further responsibility in the months to come, of preparing for Rochester to do its utmost to reestablish in the life of the community those who from now on will be returning in ever increasing numbers to the normal pursuits of life, and who have given so much in the fight to preserve our nation and all civilization.

Gentlemen, I ask that in all your deliberations during this year, you always have in mind what effect any proposed course of action will have upon this issue, which I deem to be paramount at this time, that of giving practical and substantial aid to reestablishing our returning veterans in the normal life of the community when that time shall come.

Detailed estimates of the anticipated needs of the several departments for the current year will be presented for your consideration at a later date, when the Finance Committee, in accordance with the requirements of the City Ordinances, shall submit the annual budget for your action.

Gentlemen, with your cooperation, of which I am sure, with the constructive suggestions which we shall receive from time to time from the Planning Board, and our consideration of their six-year program which has been presented to us; with the fine plans that are being developed by the Post-War Committee for aiding the veterans as they return from their service in the armed forces; and with cooperation from all the citizens of this City, I am sure Rochester can look to the future unafraid, confident of the ultimate triumph of right and justice, and the survival of our democratic way of life.

Gentlemen:

I present for your consideration the following report of the financial condition of the City of Rochester at the close of business December 31, 1945. The details of the report are shown in the accompanying Exhibits and Schedules as listed in the following index.

Exhibits A to D reflect the financial statements as of the close of the year and the results of the budget appropriations.

Schedules 1 to 11 give in more detail the accounts that are reflected in the final balance sheets.

Schedule 12 is a graphic illustration showing the various sources of revenue and the departmental expenses for the year.

Your attention is called to Schedule 14 which is a combined balance sheet, including the Water Department, as reported to the State Tax Commission in accordance with that Commission's requirements. This shows a balance of assets over all liabilities of $26,639.38.

The Funded Debt shows a decrease since December 31, 1944, of $14,636.20, which is accounted for by the payment of the following:

Public Library Notes	$5,000 00

On several occasions during the past year we have found that it would have been to our advantage if we might have had some method of conveyance to move those who had been seriously injured as the result of motor vehicle or other accidents. I would like to suggest that some consideration be given, replacing one of our present cars with a truck so equipped that it might be used as an ambulance and general emergency vehicle. Several times during the past year we have had a need for such a truck and were fortunate in having the assistance of the Fire Department and the use of their truck.

THOMAS K. REDDEN,
City Marshal.

To the Honorable Mayor and City Council:

Gentlemen: At a meeting of the trustees of the Rochester Public Library December 27, 1945, it was voted that the reports of the secretary, librarian and treasurer be presented to the city council as the annual report of the trustees for the year 1945.

J. STACY TRIPP,
Secretary.

REPORT OF LIBRARIAN

To the Board of Trustees of the Rochester Public Library:

Gentlemen: The report of the librarian showing the work of the library for the year 1945 is herewith presented, this being the fifty-second annual report of the Rochester Public Library.

At the year's beginning the plans for the work ahead were still in the formative state when the staff, reading public and community were saddened by the death, on January fifteenth, of Miss Parshley, the first and only librarian that Rochester has ever had. With a full awareness of the responsibilities placed upon her, a natural ability for her undertaking and an interest in all that pertained to the library profession, she organized and administered the activities of the library for fifty-two years and left as a memorial, an institution of which she and the citizens of Rochester were justly proud.

A TRIBUTE

As we go along through life it is sometimes our good fortune to know intimately some persons, who, by their devotion to duty, their adherence to the demands of their job, their unselfish consecration to an ideal, stand forth as beacons amid the turmoil and conflicting currents of life.

Such a person was Lillian E. Parshley, who in the infinite goodness of an all kind and merciful Providence, was taken from this life on Monday, January 15th, 1945.

She had been the librarian and principal executive officer of the Rochester Public Library since the institution was organized in 1893. She had seen the library grow under her direction, from a weak and feeble start with only slightly more than two thousand volumes, to a strong, modern, well equipped library of more than forty thousand volumes.

Since her appointment as librarian late in 1893 until the day of her death, the library was the paramount interest in her life. No task was too great, no detail too humble to warrant her painstaking care and supervision. Through days of strength, in the prime of life, and in the last few years, through months of illness and failing strength, she gave herself unreservedly and devotedly. It was her ideal, that as the library grew it should serve all the various literary needs of its patrons, and become in the truest sense an effective influence in the cultural life of the community.

How shall we value a life such as hers?

The truest evaluation is most often represented by intangible values, which are brought to their fullest consummation only as the years go on, and her influence, and the influence of the institution which she so largely built, is reflected in the lives of those who have participated in its advantages.

Resolved:

That we, the Trustees of the Rochester Public Library, regret the loss which the intellectual and cultural interests of the city have sustained in the death of Miss Parshley; that we express our sense of sorrow and personal loss in the passing of one who has been a friend, and a source of help and inspiration to so many patrons of the library.

Resolved:

That the secretary be instructed to place a copy of the foregoing upon our records; to transmit a copy to Miss Parshley's relatives; and to have same printed in the Rochester Courier and the Rochester Observer.

C. WESLEY LYONS,

HENRY J. GRONDIN,
ROBERT P. WILSON,
CHARLES W. VARNEY, JR.,
J. STACY TRIPP,

Trustees.

With such a loss it was with heavy hearts that the work of the library was resumed and real accomplishment seemed almost impossible. The staff rallied to the prime interest, service to the patrons, and with the appointment of a succeeding librarian, three members of the regular staff assumed new duties. Miss Baril as assistant librarian is in charge of circulation and cataloguing; Mrs. Scott in charge of Branch libraries and files and assisting Miss Baril at the circulation desk; Mrs. Davis in charge of periodicals and assisting in a general capacity. Mrs. Evans continued as children's librarian and is assisted by Miss Seavey who works part time. In June Mrs. Berry was added to the staff and it is unfortunate that she works only four hours daily for she is proving to be a valuable worker. Mrs. Gove assisted for two months during the vacation period and her services were much appreciated.

The first undertaking of the new year was a re-registration of patrons which kept every staff member at the counter. More than five hundred registered during the first five days. Three registrations have been taken since the library opened and the last, in 1929, had reached the unwieldy number of 9,247 and hence many inactive card holders. It was disclosed on looking over the first registration begun January 22, 1894, that of the first hundred registered forty are still among our readers and thus the first allotments in our new registration were made, and Mrs. Nellie McDuffee whose father was one of the organizing trustees was given card number one. For the year 2,250 have registered.

The next major problem seemed to be the card catalogue. The cards, always done in hand writing, are now being typed, making a plainer entry, a more detailed subject treatment but making, too, a confusing assortment of cards during the transition period. That period will of necessity be of long duration.

It is estimated that a single book requires an average of four entries, thus the 40,000 volumes necessitate the typing of approximately 160,000 cards. A sizable task and ably undertaken by Miss Baril with some assistance from Mrs. Berry. It will be a great convenience to the catalogue user.

Book selection this year has required much time and careful thought. The horrors of war flavor all our current literature. The facts of our non-fiction books can be tolerated but the boldness of novels offends the average reader. Our selection is, for the most part, dictated by public demand, so we welcome your inquiries. We endeavor to anticipate demand and yet buy those books which give promise of enduring. The trend of popularity is made clear to us when we glance through "Fifty Years of Best Sellers" by Alice Hackett. Prior to 1917 the only best sellers listed were novels and most of those of the cream puff variety. The trend then started toward the more worthwhile; "The Education of Henry Adams," "The Life of Christ," and on reaching 1944 we find "Yankee from Olympus" ranking high in non-fiction and the notorious "Forever Amber" down to fourth position in fiction. So we believe our real demand is for quality but the lighter stories are purchased for the recreation of the tired war worker, relieved of his long hours of work for the first time since Pearl Harbor.

And we have a reconversion problem. Every library has one because its patrons have one. The community is reconverting industrially and must of necessity reconvert psychologically. That is the task to which the library can contribute, have material available to aid the returning veteran in finding life again worth while. Too, have books and pamphlets suggesting courses of study or trades, or plans for the new home for the reunited family. And lastly to collect all materials relating to the war into a valuable historical collection for future generations.

A decrease in circulation is always a regrettable report for librarians and such is the result in most libraries this year. We realize that people do not read books when their nation's temperature is in the fever degree. The combined shock of Germany's defeat and the President's death kept the reader listening to the radio and absorbed in the latest newsprint. Then with the electrifying news of Japan's surrender our library week hit a new low of 905 books circulated; war books which had been so engrossing were shunned by all and instead of their prominent positions on the top shelves were pushed along to the bottom shelves. Then the nearby defense plants began to release the war worker and we anticipated a rise in circulation but the loved one returned to the home and there were not hours enough in the day to devote to him and read too. If books were read these families now owned many of them. The increasingly high wages paid the worker enabled him to buy books which were previously denied the lower bracket worker. The numerous book clubs are flourishing as never before and book sales soar. So—what if the circulation is 2,000 lower, we rejoice with the happy families and don't want another depression to be the cause of our circulation reaching the 105,000 mark.

The children's room has maintained a steady popularity even without the summer reading contest. Book Week was especially observed in that room, 136 new books were on display and at the week's end were placed in circulation, 62 children returning for the particular title which they had told Mrs. Evans they most wanted to read. Special Book Week book marks also delighted the young readers. The new books in this department have not reflected the war influence and have been most attractive.

The use of the library by the Rochester teachers is down to the dwindling figure of 118 circulated. At the beginning of the school year one hundred lists of titles of basic reference books were mimeographed and through the cooperation of Mr. Rand were distributed to each teacher. That list was prefaced with an invitation to visit the library and so become better acquainted with its resources. The librarian and assistants are ever ready to help students and teachers if needed.

We have curtailed expenditures in some departments; in the purchase of reference books because of research experts being employed in government fields and such books not in revised editions; in binding of books and magazines because of prices increased by .05 to .25 a single volume; in the purchase of necessary equipment because of shortage of good materials and high prices. All these curtailments mean added expenditures in the coming year.

The gifts for the year have been interesting and helpful, all valuable additions to the library. The Rochester Courier, Rochester Observer, Foster's Daily Democrat and Manchester Union have been most generous with space in their papers with no charge. This is especially commendable with the rationing of paper and newsprint. The Rochester office of the Northern New England Conference, through the kindness of their public spirited director Mr. Aldridge, mimeographed three hundred sheets of book lists with no charge and the Rochester Woman's Club added the Sunday issue of the New York Times to their annual gift of the daily issues. All the gifts were worthy of individual mention but for reasons of economy the list is omitted. The number of gifts received will be found at the end of the statistical report and the name list is on file at the library should anyone wish to see it. We thank each and every donor.

In many hours of overtime, in the forenoon when the library is not open to the public, 2,489 bound magazines were transferred from a very dirty basement stack room too near the coal burning furnace to a well lighted and clean annex stack room. In addition those volumes were arranged alphabetically and chronologically. Miss Baril and Mrs. Scott assisted uncounted hours at this strenuous task and with no remuneration, when workers in other places were being paid on a much higher scale and with time and a half for overtime. Am sure the patrons will appreciate the increased efficiency in the service to them when this material is consulted.

Thus the routine work of the year, with many additional projects, was accomplished. But only made possible by each and every staff member cooperating wholeheartedly and assuming their share of responsibility. I wish at this time to thank them publicly. Also thank the citizens of Rochester for their generous support of the library, the reading public for their friendly interest and the Mayor and Trustees for their professional understanding of our various questions.

Respectfully submitted,

E. VELMA FOSS,
Librarian.

REPORT OF SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

To the Rochester School Board:

I hereby submit my third annual report as superintendent of the Rochester schools. In it I have attempted to include such matters concerning the conduct of the Rochester schools as seem to be of general public interest. Appended are the reports of the headmaster of Spaulding High School and the school nurse.

EDUCATIONAL POLICY

A responsibility to our city and to our country demands that we offer an educational opportunity that will establish in our youth a firm basis for individual success in wisely chosen vocations and insure the development in them of attitudes characteristic of the good citizen. In working toward the latter of these objectives we must, in view of the history of the past quarter of a century, realize the necessity of creating common bonds of understanding among all young people preparing them for citizenship in a larger world. Only thus can a repetition of past mistakes which may well lead to an all destroying world conflict be avoided.

In the period of transition from war to peace in which we find ourselves it would be unwise to be specific as to the various means which will be used to implement the broad policy which has been outlined. It is better that we retain open minds and, employing reasonable foresight and judgment, adapt our school procedure and offerings to changing conditions as they become clearly defined.

It is possible, however, for us to be quite sure that certain significant educational trends apparent before the war, will continue in the post-war period. The growth of the secondary school seems destined to continue until all of our children will remain in school through the twelfth grade. At least two years of post secondary education, which is vocational in nature, is predictable. The extension of adult education, including training leading to United States citizenship for aliens, most certainly can be foreseen. Also the trend toward providing work experience in vocational subjects as a practical and valuable part of the secondary school program will undoubtedly continue.

It should be noted that conformity to these trends implies an extension of federal and state aid to local communities for educational purposes. Even though we may, on the grounds of principle, disapprove such aid there is little doubt but that the broad view, which vests in the nation rather than in the community the responsibility for the equalization of educational opportunity, will prevail.

SCHOOL PERSONNEL

As anticipated, the beginning of the first post-war year in the Rochester schools showed a marked increase in enrollment at Spaulding High School where more pupils reported than in any year since Pearl Harbor. Elementary enrollments on the same day showed a noticeable decrease from the previous year.

Comparative enrollment statistics follow:

	1944	1945
High,	879	923
Allen,	147	153
School Street,	177	162
Maple Street,	181	147
Gonic,	112	118
East Rochester,	178	187
	1,674	1,690

There were ten changes in the Spaulding High School teaching staff during 1945 and four in the elementary staff. The position of supervisor of music was twice vacant during the year. According to the information which we have at hand only three of the teachers who left our service did so with the purpose of accepting other teaching positions. It is our hope that the end of the war will reduce faculty changes to a normal number. Already candidates for positions in the high school are relatively numerous, but the teacher shortage in the elementary field seems destined to continue for four or five years.

A list of teachers who have left the Rochester system since January 1, 1945, and a list of their replacements follows:

It is gratifying to note that at the last session of the state legislature a teachers' retirement act was passed which makes reasonable provision for a retirement income for New Hampshire teachers. All but a very few Rochester teachers have taken advantage of the act.

One change in the Spaulding High School cafeteria staff and one addition to it was made during the year. Mrs. Pearl Robbins replaced Mrs. Edna Dame, who resigned her position, and Miss Norma Mooney is an added member of the staff.

The man-power shortage necessitated that the staff of janitors at Spaulding High School remain incomplete for most of the year; however, the end of the war brought a number of satisfactory applicants which made possible the employment of a full complement by the end of the year. During the year James Flood, for many years an able member of the staff, and Walter King, who served in the capacity of night watchman, resigned to accept other positions; also, Clifford Keay relinquished his position for reason of ill health. Mr. John Nixon was elected to fill the position left vacant by Mr. Keay's resignation; Eli LeClerc and Gideon Marcoux were appointed, on a trial basis, to fill the positions vacated by Mr. Flood and Mr. King. Mr. Leonel Spiller was employed as a substitute janitor at Allen School to fill the place of Robert Blair, whose death occurred during the year.

ADMINISTRATION

In so far as is possible in the administration of the Rochester schools it has been my purpose to follow a democratic procedure. Although the unwieldiness of the purely democratic method presents limitations in its use, the participation by the members of the teaching staff in the solution of administrative problems, and in the arriving at decisions in the matter of textbook selections and curricula changes, is encouraged whenever possible.

In the elementary schools two divisions of teachers have been set up; an elementary group and a primary group for the consideration of problems in their special areas of work. At Spaulding High School, where the major supervisory responsibility is delegated to the headmaster, a Teachers' Council has been established by him as an advisory body to assist in the general administration of the school.

The building principals of the five elementary schools hold positions of importance in our administrative organization. The tone of the school, the spirit of the children as a group, as well as the usual details of school routine, are to a great extent, dependent upon their competence. Rochester is quite fortunate in having an able group of elementary building principals.

Detailed regulations for the administration of the Rochester schools are included in the published "School Board Regulations." No general revision of the regulations has been undertaken since 1935 although numerous important changes have been made since that time. It is my recommendation that during the current year a new revised edition of the "School Board Regulations" be published.

An administrative change which would do much toward the improving of the subject matter offering at Spaulding High School warrants our attention. I refer to the matter of the appointment of department heads in the various subject fields. Although provision was made for their compensation in the original salary schedule and in its revision, no action has as yet been taken in the matter beyond the election of the submaster as "Submaster and Head of the Industrial Arts Department." The most superficial consideration of the existing condition in which the headmaster must perform the duties of a department head in English, foreign languages, the Social Studies, mathematics and science, commerce, and home economics, must lead us to the conclusion that his task is rather an impossible one. The appointment of department heads in at least three of these fields would assure the organization of the subject matter in a way that would achieve a desirable continuity and encourage a coordinated effort on the part of department members toward the achievement of clearly defined objectives.

With the end of the war and a return to more normal times vocational guidance will become increasingly important. The present sellers' market in the labor field will change to a buyers' market in which the well prepared and competent will get the positions. In such a situation the individual boy or girl will need expert advice in the choice of his vocation and in the steps necessary to prepare for that vocation. While the establishment of a Guidance office at Spaulding High School and the freeing of Miss Helen Foss for one-half of the school day for guidance work has marked a forward step, it is essential that more of her time be made available if adequate guidance service is to be provided for all of the pupils in the school. It might be noted here that the "Career Day" initiated and organized through Miss Foss' efforts during the spring of 1945 not only met with the approval of the pupils concerned but gained favorable state-wide attention for the school.

CURRICULUM AND INSTRUCTION

The curriculum at Spaulding High School for the 1945-1946 school year has remained unchanged from that of the previous year except that, in the Commerce department, two years of typewriting and two years of stenography are now being offered. Those familiar with the weaknesses in stenography of the usual high school graduate will recognize the value of this modification.

Every effort has been made to insure that every pupil in the high school is equipped with a text book which is in a satisfactory condition. While in some cases publishers' shortages prevented the procurement of books, our situation in this respect is much improved over previous years.

In the primary grades the provision of textbooks and other materials for use with the basic reading system adopted during 1945 has been completed. Very satisfactory reports concerning the effectiveness of the system have been received. A new form of report card, using symbols which are more commonly understood than those on the card formerly in use, has been introduced.

Visual aids are playing an increasingly important part in the teaching in all of our schools. The sound moving picture machine has been extensively used in classes at Spaulding High School and circulated on a definite schedule in the elementary schools. An additional film strip machine for the exclusive use of the elementary schools has been purchased; also a library of film strips is being assembled for use with it. With their own funds two of the elementary schools have purchased opaque projectors. One has purchased a film strip machine and is accumulating its own library of films. It is our hope that material which may be best conveyed through the medium of visual aids will be so taught in the Rochester schools; and that our program will be fully developed with this end in view.

In order to evaluate the work of the schools batteries of standardized achievement tests, in addition to the usual tests in spelling and handwriting, were given during the year in grades two through eight. The results of these tests, if they can be generalized, show satisfactory achievement in reading, vocabulary, arithmetic, English, and literature, and unsatisfactory achievement in spelling. A study, looking to the introduction of a new spelling system, is being made in an effort to overcome this weakness apparent throughout the system.

In order to provide for those children who are unadapted to the usual work of the schools, the Committee on Studies, Textbooks and Supplies has been assigned the duty of making inquiry as to the feasibility of establishing so-called "special classes" in the Rochester system, comparable to those in other cities. This project, if it can be carried into effect, should result in an inestimable benefit to the children concerned and to the community.

There are certain possible improvements in our curriculum offerings to which our attention should be directed.

Steps should be taken to restore the vocational department at Spaulding High School to its former strength by reestablishing the courses in related mathematics. These studies were dropped during war-time because of a shortage of qualified teachers in that field. We should also give consideration to the great practical value to the individual pupil and to the community of adding a course in Distributive Education to the Spaulding High School curriculum. The value of the course is two-fold: (1) it provides for the pupil under the supervision of an instructor or "coordinator" practical instruction and work experience in the local stores, (2) also it offers to local merchants the benefits of research concerning the most up-to-date methods of merchandising and selling. Such courses, which are federally aided, are being introduced in many cities in New Hampshire after having proved their worth in other states.

ADULT EDUCATION

While it is our purpose to make extensive use of the Spaulding High School plant, our ventures in the field of adult education have not proved particularly successful. We have been confronted with two difficulties, that of procuring instructors, and that of attracting enough pupils to form classes of reasonable size. In spite of an apparently well-conceived publicity campaign resulting from cooperative action with the Community Activities Association, only in the field of men's recreation have we found qualified instructors and a sufficient demand to warrant the holding of classes. Following a return to more normal times it is reasonable to expect that we may be more successful in this field.

It is my suggestion that we seriously consider the advisability of absorbing the costs resulting from the use of the school plant in the adult education program, making the cost to the participants only as much as is necessary for the salary of the instructor.

Since there are many aliens in Rochester who should be encouraged to become American citizens, a course in Citizenship English should be included in our adult offering.

THE RETURNING VETERAN

We are keenly interested in helping the returning veteran to make rapid adjustment to civilian life and to give him access to the facilities of the Rochester schools. It has been our experience to date, however, that the high school is not the place for the veteran. He is much too mature to enjoy association with high school youth and only an over-supply of moral courage will induce him to remain for long in high school classes.

Those veterans who have come to us with a desire to complete secondary school work have had their previous high school records and their army training carefully evaluated in accordance with the regulations pertaining to the matter made by the Rochester School Board and the State Board of Education. In some cases this evaluation has meant that sufficient credits have been accumulated to justify the immediate award of a diploma; in others, it has shown that only one or two courses needed to be completed to fulfill the requirements for high school graduation. Veterans, ineligible to receive Spaulding High School diplomas since they were never members of the school, are provided for by the State Board of Education. They are given so-called "high school equivalence examinations," the successful completion of which entitles them to receive a certificate which is of the same value as the usual high school diploma.

In any field in which we are equipped to offer instruction and wherever a sufficient number of interested veterans warrant the forming of classes it should be done. At present, however, the matters of individual vocational desires and vocational opportunities are not sufficiently clear to make practical the establishment of a training program of any assured value.

HEALTH

It is our hope that the lessons gained concerning the health needs of the nation during the war will not soon be forgotten. In any school program the health of the individual child must be of paramount importance. In the schools of Rochester the services rendered by the school nurse and the school doctor, which are covered in detail in the appended report of the school nurse, are of inestimable value. Careful attention is given in the elementary grades to the development of proper health habits. "Health" as a subject is a part of the curriculum in all grades through the eighth and a complete program of physical education is offered in all grades at Spaulding High School.

As an aid to the improvement of pupil health, milk is provided daily in all schools at a cost of two cents a bottle. During the cold weather months a hot luncheon dish is offered to pupils in the elementary schools at a nominal cost; also, low cost, balanced meals are served throughout the school year at the Spaulding High School cafeteria. This program is made possible by a substantial federal subsidy. It should be noted here that the cafeteria, under the able managership of Mrs. Gertrude McClintock, has gained the reputation of being one of the best in the state.

Thanks to the cooperation of the dentists of Rochester, the dental clinic for under-privileged children has become a valuable part of the school health program.

THE PHYSICAL PLANT

Necessary repairs and improvements have been made in the physical plant during the year. At the School Street School, the boiler was retubed, the interior walls and ceilings redone, and the floors freed of oil and sealed. The roof of the Maple Street School was treated with roof-coating and certain interior paint work was done. At Allen School the assembly room was redone, the concrete apron around the building completed, and the boiler reset. The exterior iron work and the interior trim at Spaulding High School were repainted; new front steps were installed; the boiler which had been converted to coal during the war was re-converted to oil, and the coal shed disposed of through sale. A lunch room was installed at the East Rochester School. Minor repairs to all buildings were made where necessary.

While some of our buildings may be classified as "old," all have been brought into excellent condition by a program of repair and improvement which has continued over a ten-year period.

Within the next few years it will probably be necessary to replace one, and perhaps two, of our buildings. However, before taking action in the matter, it would be well for us to recognize that we are in a period of high labor and material costs and that postponement of building projects for a year or two would undoubtedly result in a substantial saving to the taxpayers of the city and would cause no real hardship to the school personnel.

It has become the policy of the Rochester School Board working through the Committee on Schoolhouses and Grounds to encourage community use of the school facilities. The Maple Street School gymnasium has been made available to the Community Activities' Association for use in its program of activities for Rochester youth. The use of rooms in all of the elementary buildings is extended to the same organization for meetings of its Gra-Y Clubs. The softball diamond at the Spaulding High School athletic field was opened to the Industrial League for its softball games. "Teen Town," which was left without a home following the sale of the building in which its activities were located, has been temporarily installed in the Spaulding High School gymnasium. Spaulding High School organizations wishing to invite the public to their dances have been permitted to do so upon assurance by the Headmaster that proper supervision would be maintained.

FINANCE

In the matter of school finance I can but repeat what appeared in my annual report for 1944. We are in a period of mounting costs affecting education as well as business and industry, and in education, as in business and industry, the higher costs must be met if the standard of the service or product is to be maintained at a normal level.

Any critical analysis of the increasing costs of education in Rochester must, in fairness, take into consideration the increases in such costs in similar communities in the state. Comparative figures on the per pupil cost of high school instruction in several cities in the state for the 1944-45 year issued by the State Board of Education follow:

COST OF HIGH SCHOOL INSTRUCTION, 1944-45

City	Average cost per pupil
	1943-44	1944-45
Berlin	$120.59	$120.46
Claremont	105.57	107.17
Concord	120.67	129.69

Dover	81.60	98.91
Franklin	120.58	94.75

Portsmouth	98.47	101.82
Rochester	91.38	98.76

These are the only statistics on school costs for the 1944-45 school year available at the time that this report is written and they concern only those items in the budget which apply directly to instruction, such as teachers' salaries, textbooks, and pupils' supplies. They do, however, give some basis for comparison of Rochester school costs with those of other cities in the state.

As a measure to insure that tuition pupils share our increased costs, the tuition rate in grades one through eight in the Rochester schools has been increased to $64.75 a year and that for grades nine through twelve to $95.00 a year.

It will be our continued endeavor to so handle the monies made available for school purposes by the taxpayers of Rochester that the maximum return in educational product will result.

In concluding this report I should like to express my appreciation to members of the Rochester School Board of 1945 for the interest and attention given to school needs and problems, and to the members of the School Department staff for the high degree of cooperation exhibited in working toward the achievement of our common aims.

Respectfully submitted,

HAROLD T. RAND,
Superintendent of Schools.

REPORT OF HEADMASTER OF HIGH SCHOOL

Mr. Harold T. Rand
Superintendent of Schools
Rochester, N. H.

Dear Mr. Rand:

I hereby submit my annual report as headmaster of Spaulding High School.

ENROLLMENT

Again our enrollment surpasses that reported for the previous year as the accompanying table will show:

In addition to the enrollment in the above subjects we have 298 junior high pupils taking all subjects indicated in the established curriculum.

TEACHERS

Our teachers who have been on leaves of absence are expected to return at an early date. Mr. Barney is to be back in the English department very soon; Mr. Bartlett, a shop teacher, is expected in the middle of February; also, Mr. Harry Grierson, Mr. Eugene Maxam, and Mr. Charles Beard will join the staff again in the near future.

To comply with school board regulations and to increase their efficiency in instruction, several teachers attended summer school. Others are taking extension or Saturday morning courses during the current school year.

Many of our teachers have extra-curricular duties. Without their wholehearted participation our program at Spaulding High School would be very limited.

We had practice teachers from the University of New Hampshire again this year. They practiced in the English, Home Economics, History, and Physical Education departments.

ADMINISTRATION

A committee of teachers has been chosen from the staff to act in an advisory capacity to the headmaster. They are Submaster Harold Hanson, Miss Florence Dame, Miss Violet Davis, Miss Helen Foss, Mr. Wilfred Creteau, Mr. Theodore Lylis, and Mr. Victor Smith. It is expected that the functioning of this committee will afford teachers a representative voice in the formulation of administrative policies.

The need of department heads to assist in coordinating and unifying the work of the school is one of the immediate problems facing us. Other topics needing discussion are the outlining of a program for Curriculum Revision and for the extension of our Guidance Service.

It has been suggested that we return General Mathematics to the program and introduce a new curriculum in Distributive Education. As can be seen from our subject enrollment the 156 students taking algebra constitute an excessive number since many of these boys and girls would be better served by a course in General Mathematics.

The course in Distributive Education, involving the work-study plan, provides an excellent experience for many who will finish their formal education with high school.

ATHLETICS

Director of Athletics Walter Mirey has increased considerably the scope of his department by adding winter sports to the regular program. Mr. Meacham coaches skiing and Mr. Wilbur Fay, hockey. Both of these sports are welcome additions.

The Student Activity Association approved a budget to buy uniforms and equipment for the hockey team in the event that the school department would purchase lumber for the rink. By cooperative effort the plan was carried through. In a relatively short time the boys, under Mr. Fay's direction, built a hockey rink on the softball diamond. The encouragement of hockey intramurals by Mr. McGrail, director of Physical Education, and enthusiastic pupil participation in this sport give promise of good hockey teams in the future.

Winter sports interest about twenty-five boys and girls. This type of activity should be encouraged as it has an excellent carry-over into adult life.

In football we had varsity and junior varsity squads totaling seventy boys. Mr. Fay assisted Mr. Mirey with the varsity, and Assistant Coach McGrail was in charge of the junior varsity with Mr. Mooney as his assistant.

We have two basketball squads, a freshman-sophomore group and a varsity group. In addition to our varsity schedule, games are being arranged for the freshman-sophomore group. John Douglas, '45, is assisting Mr. Mirey with the latter squad.

We held several track meets last May and June. Mr. Lylis and Mr. Mooney were in charge of this sport in which many boys participated. Interest is growing and we hope to see a larger squad this year.

Mrs. Emerson has been coaching a group of girls in basketball this year and several games have been scheduled and played. This type of schedule is known as "informal" as it is not a part of the Student Activity program.

An important feature of all athletic contests is the participation of the cheer-leaders. Miss McNamara has been very active in promoting this necessary and worthwhile activity. She now directs groups of both junior and senior cheer-leaders.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

Director John McGrail and his assistant, Mrs. Florence Emerson, are planning a physical education demonstration to be held in the spring of 1946. It is hoped that many of the classes will participate.

At present intramurals play a large part in our extra school activities. The games are played immediately after the seventh period and before varsity practices. These contests are held for both boys and girls. There is considerable interest and enthusiasm evidenced during these free play periods.

To increase the physical fitness of all participants physical exercises are practiced and games are played during the class periods.

EXTRA-CURRICULAR ACTIVITIES

In addition to the teachers' names listed as assistants in the athletic program we have the following activities carried on under teacher guidance:

Dramatic Club,	Miss Marion Dow

BUILDING AND EQUIPMENT

By constant work of the janitors the building is being kept clean and in good condition. Pupils, on the whole, appreciate our school plant and help to keep it a beautiful place in which to live and learn. This is our sixth year in the building and from the daily use of about nine hundred pupils certain parts are beginning to show wear, especially the stair treads, toilet rooms, table tops, and desk tops. Also, the roofs are leaking again this year as the result of a heavy accumulation of ice on the eaves.

CAFETERIA

Our cafeteria continues to have heavy pupil patronage. We have served as many as 879 pupils and as many as 743 hot plates during one noon period of two hours' duration. As our pupil enrollment is around 930, on these days very few went home to lunch. Our usual attendance is about 750. Cafeteria Manager Gertrude McClintock has five women assistants as well as a large corps of pupils helping in various capacities.

Because of the government subsidy we can serve well-balanced luncheons very inexpensively.

A financial report (1944-45) for the cafeteria is appended. Among the items listed it will be noted that we have started a depreciation fund to be used for eventual replacement of our equipment.

SCHOLARSHIP

At the half year a study of the honor roll shows the following percentages from each of the classes to be above average in scholastic attainment:

	This Year	Last Year
Seniors	36%	32%
Juniors	28%	30%
Sophomores	30%	29%
Freshmen	23%	22%

Much can be said concerning the values of extra-curricular activities and much can be seen by the public. Scholarship is much more difficult to see and show. Our school is established and maintained with the prime purpose of teaching citizenship and preparing our boys and girls for their life work through the medium of various school subjects. The majority of our pupils are of average mentality, a condition which is as it should be. The above table lists those students who have acquired understandings above the average level of attainment and is based entirely on scholastic ability. Along with the development of this ability we try to inculcate strength of character, a spirit of cooperation, and a sense of responsibility for the common good; and yet these are the intangibles which cannot be measured until life has been lived and school long finished.

These ends, good scholarship and worthy citizenship, can only come through the work of excellent teachers. I believe that Spaulding High School compares very favorably with other schools in this respect.

GRADUATES

For the class of 1945 we have the following data as to their present occupations:

University of New Hampshire	11
Keene Teachers' College	3

One graduate to each of the following:

Bates College
University of Minnesota
St. Anselm's
Holy Cross
Salvation Army School
Leland Powers'
New Hampton Preparatory School
Elliot Hospital
Missionary School
Lasalle Junior College
McIntosh Business College
Becker College of Business
Mount Ida Junior College
Traphagen School of Fashion
Hesser Business School
N. H. Memorial Hospital

Twenty-nine have joined the armed forces; seven are working in the local factories; eleven in the stores; eight in offices; seven are married; and eighteen are either at home or engaged in various other occupations.

CONCLUSION

Teaching in Spaulding High School is an enviable experience. I am sure the teachers join me in thanking you and through you, the school board and citizens for their fine spirit of cooperation.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN M. COTTON,
Headmaster.

REPORT OF THE SCHOOL NURSE

To the Superintendent of Schools:

I herewith submit my report as School Nurse for the year of 1945.

Routine health services were carried out in connection with my weekly visits to the schools. Physical inspections and vision tests were made, the grade school children were weighed and measured three times during the school year, and cases reported by the teachers were investigated. Class room inspections were made to control the spread of skin diseases and pediculi. Considerable time was spent in the follow up work connected with the audiometer tests given in the fall of 1944. Dr. N. K. Chesley has examined the pupils of grades seven and nine and some of the pupils of grades one and four. This work is not yet completed but will be taken care of in the near future. Defects found at the time of the doctor's inspection have been reported and corrections are being made.

Contagious diseases have been at a minimum during 1945. The major cause of school absences is still the common cold. The city suffered a slight scarlet fever epidemic during the latter part of the year but school children were only slightly affected. Several surrounding communities have reported cases of diphtheria during the past year and the State Board of Health has asked the schools of New Hampshire to sponsor a diphtheria immunization clinic in the first four grades. Plans are being made for such a clinic.

An Orthopedic Diagnostic Clinic, under the direction of the State Board of Health, was held five times during the year. Drs. Ezra Jones and Carl Friborg of Manchester were the attending physicians. The children are examined at the clinic and the treatments recommended are carried out at the Orthopedic Physiotherapy Clinic which is held twice a month at the Spaulding High School.

The Rochester Dental Clinic is operating on a small scale. The local dentists work one-half day a year either at their offices or at the Spaulding High School. The corrective work is limited due to the shortage of working hours but it is hoped that there will be an opportunity to care for more children in the near future. It is gratifying to see the results of the work which has been accomplished during the few years that the clinic has been operating.

The Red Cross Motor Corps deserves much credit and thanks for transporting the children to the various clinics. I would, also, like to thank the Kiwanis Club for their generosity in financing the correction of defects found in the underprivileged children.

I want, Mr. Rand, to thank you and the teachers for the cooperation I have received during the year of 1945.

Respectfully submitted,

NORA C. SCAHILL, R. N.,
School Nurse.

INAUGURAL ADDRESS

by C. Wesley Lyons, Mayor

January 1, 1946

Gentlemen of the Council:

The citizens of the City of Rochester have selected you as members of the City Council to conduct the affairs of this municipality for this year of 1946.

We, as a Council, have been charged with the affairs of the City, the first and most important of which is that we so manage the moneys as to maintain our high financial rating, to see to it that the protection of our citizens is given thoughtful consideration, to strive toward the improvement of our streets and highways, which are most essential to every community.

Especial attention must be given to our School Department, that we may continue to hold the high rating in the future that we have in the past.

Much thought and investigation should be given to our parks and playgrounds; and for the beautification of Rochester, our shade trees must not be neglected.

It has been my privilege to have worked with you as a Councilman for one term, and as your Mayor for the past year. During this time we have gone through a period whereas it was necessary that we prepare to fight and to win one of the most terrible wars in history. This nation has been foremost in bringing the peace.

Our responsibilities as a city government are greater at this moment than at any time since it became necessary for us to be engaged in war, to prepare for the efforts that will be required to face the reconstruction period that follows a great conflict.

In addition to this we have an obligation to our young men and women who served in the armed forces throughout the world and who are now coming home to us, that they may be returned to their normal pursuits in life. And by their normal pursuits in life may be to return to our local industries, complete their courses in our local schools or universities, or decide to obtain their livelihood by agriculture, which is outstanding not only in this particular city but in this section of our state. This is an obligation and responsibility from which we must not turn aside. If we fail in this obligation and in this responsibility, those men and women who have made the supreme sacrifice that we may continue to live in freedom and democracy, have given their lives in vain.

The Water Department requires unlimited attention and much forethought in order to safeguard the interest of all the people concerned. A public water supply is the most fundamental necessity of life, vital not only to health and sanitation, but also to industry and protection from fire. At this time I wish to present a few facts pertaining to the supply. For the past few years the department has been unable to supply the demand at various periods of the year, as the large volume of water used during these periods reduces the head pressure to a very unsatisfactory level, at which time it becomes necessary for the Committee to issue notices requesting the curtailment of the use of water, thereby greatly reducing the department's revenue. When this condition exists, it not only affects the revenue but also curtails certain activities.

I would recommend that the Committee on Water Works and Sewers use every effort to procure an auxiliary water supply in the near future, so that the department may be able to meet all of its demands.

During the past four years it has been impossible for us to make any outstanding improvement in our streets and highways. In this our situation has been no different than that of our sister towns and cities. We have, however, come to a point where definite steps should immediately be taken in reconstruction and improvements in streets and highways.

During the past winter this section of the state, or perhaps of New England, was so unfortunate as to have had more snow than for many years. Not only did we have the difficult task of snow removal, but we also had equipment which had seen many years of service. With the unfortunate existing conditions, and time taken for repairs due to breakdowns, I feel, from observance and reports, that the conditions of Rochester highways at that time were not only as good as in other communities but far superior to those in many other towns.

At this time I take the opportunity of congratulating the members of the Highway Committee, together with the members of that department, for their efforts, and the citizens of Rochester for their cooperation; and I believe it might be well for the Council to authorize the members of the Highway Committee of 1946 to obtain information pertaining to the purchase of new equipment for that department when the time arrives that such equipment is available.

Close cooperation has been maintained between the School Department and other departments of our City.

Schools have continued to maintain their efficiency. Even with wartime shortages of manpower and material, our schools have been well staffed and equipped, I believe above the average.

Necessary repairs and improvements have been made in the school buildings, sufficient to keep them in good condition.

A salary schedule for teachers, which was voted in 1944, has been put into effect this year, placing Rochester in a position to retain its present teachers and to attract equally good teachers when vacancies occur. Janitors' salaries have also been increased.

Rochester is fortunate in having many parks, also in having a playground for the younger children and tennis courts for the older children, or adults, adjacent to Hanson Pines.

During the past year some thought has been given to removing the underbrush or small growth at the entrance to Hanson Park. With the cooperation of our Water and Sewer Department we were able to clear a small portion of the Pines where tables and chairs are located.

The playground equipment has been checked and repaired, so that at the moment it is in excellent shape. The wading pool is an asset to this community, and many enjoyed these facilities during this last season. I believe that we as citizens of Rochester should make investigation as to the possibility of constructing pools in East Rochester and Gonic.

Too much thought cannot be devoted along the above lines of development, which would be for the welfare of the boys and girls who tomorrow will be in the same capacities as you and I.

The Common was used for baseball and softball; and with the assistance of the Highway Department, together with some of our citizens who are interested in these games, we were able to make temporary improvements in that portion of the Common that was used for these particular sports.

The custom which has been established of providing portions of our parks and playgrounds for skating for the smaller children brings much pleasure to this younger group.

During the past year many petitions have been presented for the removal and repair of our shade trees, and all of these were referred to the Committee with power to act. These petitions were taken care of as far as possible, and the few that are now pending are because of lack of funds. Although undoubtedly there may be a small balance in this department, the Committee recommends a small reserve for any emergency that might arise from ice storms.

Your Committee recommends, as soon as small trees are available, that replacement be made where trees were removed, and a program be arranged where a supply of trees might be available to the individual citizen for ornamental purposes. Shade trees must not be neglected, for by so doing we lose the beauty and attractiveness of our city.

The Public Library is a splendid and outstanding institution, efficiently staffed. In January we were unfortunate in the passing of our first librarian, Lillian E. Parshley, who had served in this capacity as a public servant for fifty-two years.

The Fire and Police Departments are set up for the protection of property and of citizens. The Standing Committees, with the cooperation of the Fire Chief and City Marshal, have been able to maintain the efficiency of these departments. Arrangements were made late last fall and a public demonstration was held of two-way radio for the Fire Department. Should this equipment be installed, it would be most helpful in forest fires; and there is a possibility of great danger in this type of fire, owing to the fact that we have many acres of slash in this vicinity. I recommend that some thought be given to the advisability of a change in our present Hook and Ladder, which has had many years of service, for a more modern piece of apparatus.

The Police Committee is contemplating investigation regarding the advisability of changing the motor equipment in this department to a type of car that would not only take care of regular calls, but could also be used as an ambulance in emergency in the future.

Should any investigation be made and reports obtained in the above, the same will immediately be presented to you for your consideration and discussion.

In conclusion, I take this opportunity of expressing my appreciation for the privilege of being allowed to serve with you in the year of 1946. I assure you that I will endeavor to convey to you all available information and assist the committees in the future as in the past; and with your cooperation, of which I am sure, together with the constructive suggestions we may receive from various civic organizations and citizens, we may face this period of reconstruction with utmost confidence that Rochester may be continuously progressive, that we may well appreciate the freedom and democracy which is ours.
